Dear Dean Malave:

The American College of Clinical Pharmacy (ACCP) launched its national pharmacy student team competition, the ACCP Clinical Pharmacy Challenge, in 2010. The competition tests students' knowledge across a broad range of pharmacotherapeutic areas.

Teams participating in the Challenge compete in online rounds in September, and the top eight teams advance to the live round competition held during the ACCP Annual Meeting. To develop the item content for the competition, ACCP relies on the expertise of its members.

On behalf of the College, I wish to commend Joshua Caballero, Pharm.D., BCPP, for his service on the 2013 ACCP Clinical Pharmacy Challenge Item-Author Panel. Dr. Caballero's contribution in writing items in the area of psychiatry/central nervous system disorders is highly valued and helped to create rigorous exams for each round of this year's competition.

Dr. Caballero's service on the 2013 ACCP Clinical Pharmacy Challenge Item-Author Panel is greatly appreciated, for which he will be recognized in the October issue of the ACCP Report available at <http://www.accp.com> and during the semifinal round of the live competition in Albuquerque, New Mexico, at the ACCP Annual Meeting on October 12.

Sincerely,

Michael S. Maddux, Pharm.D., FCCP
Executive Director, ACCP
